

Undergraduate Internships

Undergraduate students play a crucial role at Inner City Law Center and help ensure every resident of Los Angeles has access to safe and affordable housing. Students are assigned to one of ICLC's project areas and work on a variety of tasks designed to strengthen their professional skills and introduce them to a career in public interest law.

RESEARCH AND WRITING

Students will research and analyze issues relating to our cases, draft client letters and legal templates, and learn about legal research and writing.

CLIENT-CENTERED WORK AND ORAL ADVOCACY

Interns will participate in client intake and interview sessions, help our attorneys prepare for hearings and trials, and observe depositions and courtroom proceedings.

ADMIN

Students will provide administrative support to their teams and help with filing, data entry, and case management.

TRAININGS AND PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

During their time at ICLC, students will have the opportunity to attend a variety of trainings focused on housing law, veterans issues, trauma-informed practices, cultural competency, and trial skills, as well as meet and learn from skilled lawyers and bench officers.

REQUIREMENTS

- *An interest in non-profit/public interest work is required.
- *Spanish language skills are preferred but not required.
- *Students must commit at least 16 hours a week to ICLC.
